The Template

Functioning upon the laws of resonant harmonics, the Template codes reconnect bio-circuitry that downloads a holistic virus of Source Consciousness.

This divine directive enters the Human bio-computational field and initiates the collapse of programs that are reliant upon the synthetic mutant matrix. Reconnection to the Heart of the Cosmos activates the disassociation from the predominant ideology of prejudice and separation and informs us that unity is the superlative Human state.

From the restoration of the divine immortal Human blueprint to the realignment of the cosmogenic order of our solar system, The Template is a holonomic interactive solution-based model of transcendence that recognises the synchronomic forces of creation that converge to form the universal hologram.

The Template model links the geometric signal of light, the circuitry that delivers energetic information into the electromagnetic field, the rejuvenation of the endocrine system and DNA restoration to the transformation of the morphogenetic field and the ultimate stabilization of a new paradigm. The Template identifies the mutant state of the Human genetic code, the astronomical disturbance that is maintaining this mutation and the present day chemical, psycho-social, biological, electromagnetic and religious manipulation of consciousness that is perpetuating the retardation of evolution on Earth.

Due to the genetic modification of the Human DNA, major circuits within the Human bio-computer have been disconnected, reducing Humanity to a conflict-driven, mortal race, collectively manifesting a fear-based paradigm.
Embedded in the Human matrix is the Soul Covenant that holds the harmonic of our symbiotic relationship with the evolution of our mother planet, our solar system and the galactic cosmology. It is the primary function of The Template to resurrect this covenant.

The transformation of the field through the acceleration of electromagnetic download into the individual and collective matrix offered by the reconnection of circuitry requires critical mass. Our challenge in the coming alignment is to resurrect our ability to function as complete units of bio-circuitry, capable of translating light and embodying the energetic nature of the cosmic order.

The workshop model is too slow for our times and many people cannot afford to participate. The restrictions on personal freedoms are already making travel difficult. Because of this we are focusing on creating DVDs which contain all the information. They will include an interactive, alchemically coded, ceremonial experience that will enable the viewer to reconnect circuitry.

The footage now on your Youtube site are excerpts of our first DVD which will reconnect 12 Foundation circuits.

There are 6 ceremonies in the Template model, reconnecting a total of 33 circuits.

The Phi-sonic Resonance DVD will temporarily reconnect all 33 circuits. To permanently reconnect these circuits it is vital to take part in an alchemical Template ceremony either via DVD or in person.
Circuitry and the Cosmic Octave

“The highest wisdom has but one science, the science of the whole, the science explaining the whole of creation and man’s place in it.” Leo Tolstoy

We discovered the connection between the electromagnetic circuitry of the Human field and specific harmonic octaves when our sound technician, Jurgen, introduced us to the work of the late Hans Cousto, a Swiss sound master who worked with the ‘Law of the Octave.’ Through the systematic application of this law to period phenomena Cousto calibrated the frequency of the planets in relation to the period phenomena of our solar system revealing the ‘harmony of the spheres…’

“…an all encompassing system of measurement by which it is possible to transpose the movement of the planets into audible rhythms and sounds and into color. This basic system of measurement clearly demonstrates the harmonic relationship that exists between different kinds of natural phenomena in the fields of astronomy, meteorology and microbiology.”

Hans Cousto, ‘The Cosmic Octave.’

While experimenting with various harmonics in Jergen’s sound studio in Bali, we discovered that this system of measurement also applies to the electromagnetic field of Human consciousness and its symbiotic evolutionary relationship to light, to the solar system, the centre of the galaxy and to the Heart of Creation.

Due to the genetic modification of the divine Human blueprint and the cataclysmic event that disrupted the planetary design of the solar system, and, specifically, the orbit of Earth around her Sun, the Human resonance with the Sun and its planets has been distorted.

In the 5th alchemical event within the Template model of transcendence, the ‘Temple of Time Ceremony’, 7 circuits of electromagnetic energy are reconnected into the Human field.
These 7 circuits re-instate the geomagnetic flow of planetary consciousness as an energetic co-ordinance within the Human heart/body/mind system, restoring the astrological imprints of living planetary archetypes as iconic points of reference within the Human perception of space/time.

Thus, the true order of cosmic influences that are embedded within the Soul’s Covenant with light, prior to genetic modification, are reactivated and the resonance of the divine immortal continuum is reverberated and experienced within.

With this in mind we were astounded as we began to evaluate the resonance of Cousto’s model with that of the holonomic function of The Template. We discovered that the Mars circuitry point was temporarily reconnected when exposed to Cousto’s Mars harmonic, as was the Venus test point to Cousto’s Venus harmonic.

It became apparent that his model was resonant with The Template’s electromagnetic map as it related to the planetary circuitry. Further investigation revealed that the 33rd circuit, which is reconnected in the Worldbridger Ceremony, is resonant with Cousto’s Galactic Harmonic. The tone is F with 172.06 Hz and the corresponding colour is purple with a wavelength of about 400 nanometers.

The 33rd meridian encompasses the Human electromagnetic field. This is the Worldbridger hyper-circuit, the spherical energetic membrane of super charged communication, a stream of Source Intelligence flow to and from the conscious entity and its point of sentient sovereign conception.

This circuit activates and integrates all 32 circuits of the electromagnetic module that actuates the Human template. It is via this circuit that your field is embraced into the holonomic weave of co-creative, interactive spheres of light information... the immortal continuum.
At the time of publishing the consequences and implications of having discovered that the 33rd sphere is in frequency resonance with a galactic increment of time continues to unpack daily. Quite clearly this resonance speaks of our quintessential identity as fractal aspects of the universal holography with the Sun as our primary organizing principle. Dancing on the periphery of my comprehension of this new knowledge are overtones of eternity and time travel that echo the statement of Terrence McKenna that we embody the inherent propensity to experience any time or energy level in the Universe.

Phi-sonic Geometry and the Cosmic Octave

Integrating this aspect of harmonics as an alchemical component within the awakening of Human cognition to the galactic holography, we have determined a progression of harmonic tones and their resonant geometries based on the Fibonacci series. The series includes the 8 Hz, octavized. This frequency cannot be blocked and will pass through any known barrier, even through a triple vacuum. The implication is that 8 is the frequency of infinity. 64 is one of its octaves. 8 X 18 is 144. These numbers and many others are associated with creation, growth, the music of the spheres and DNA repair.

The Phi-sonic 5th dimensional vortex geometry expressed in a 3rd dimensional space transmits and expresses frequencies that connect a circuit around the Human field that is the event-horizon between the One and its emissary.
Hear the Geometry, See the Sound

Healing modalities that afford easement and comfort from the pain and suffering of being Human in this dualistic paradigm are undoubtedly precious. At this time in our history, as we approach a never before known portal of opportunity, the challenge is to take this healing knowledge and forge from it an expanded schematic that can address the core wounds that have rendered Humanity a slave race, an immortal race locked in a mortal paradigm; addressing the fulcrum digression that has led to the incalculable catalogue of Human torment. In the face of worldwide poverty, genocide, exploitation and government sanctioned use of torture it is blatantly obvious that there is a global malignancy that defies explanation in Human terms.

The loss of eco-symbiosis that will eventually lead to terminal decline cannot simply be attributed to errant government regimes, environmental hardships, economic limitation or the need for education and better technology. Nor can the wars and worldwide suffering of Humanity be explained and excused by the arcane religious indoctrination that has entrained Humanity to believe its afflictions are the result of some cryptic collective offence committed in a time out of Human memory, an ancestral offence against ‘god’ that requires lifetimes of atonement and the possibility of eternal damnation.

Individual development is reliant upon the whole, just as collective development is reliant upon the individual: such is the holonomy of a paradigm.

There can be no peace in this paradigm...peace cannot be defined by the cessation of war. The solution is never found at the level of the problem...you cannot patch up a paradigm.
However many corrupt regimes are overthrown, however many warlords brought to trial, many more replace them, for their existence is not simply the result of a confluence of degenerative circumstances and environments that can be eradicated by peace talks and the gathering of the United Nations. These brutal demonic behaviour patterns are programs that self-generate and perpetuate from the matrix itself. This version of ‘reality’ is an anomalous entropic paradigm generated by the brain-wave frequency feedback of a genetically altered race, residing in an isolated temporal zone that has been modified to enslave consciousness and deprive the individual being of its sentient sovereignty.

The new paradigm - the new model of existence - will not come from better government, stricter policing, smarter technology, or a properly organized global community. It will arise from a community that needs no governing at all... from a people whose conscious, energetic, unmediated connection to the Benevolence of their Creation translates through the prism of their daily existence as a natural propensity toward unity and co-operation inspiring them to give and receive love in all that they do. The original Human, prior to genetic modification, functioned in complete harmony with all other forms of life and in total symbiotic resonance with the evolutionary light code of its solar system, responding in full conscious communion to even the softest whisper carried on the solar winds and every photonic nuance held in a ray of light. That Human race did not need to be organized.

The new model of existence will not be born of the mind as a theory, it will be understood in the mind, felt in the heart, made tangible in the body and birthed into time and space through frequency...through sound.
The new paradigm will be spun from the electro-dynamic ignition of a quantum mass of holistic Human consciousness emitted as a transcendent body frequency as the result of the resurrection of Human bio-circuitry and the resultant activation of the light body. This transcendental harmonic code creates the cymatic geometry that forms the infrastructure of manifestation.

Sound structures form. Form is the shape of consciousness.

Due to the magnetic dynamic created by the impending alignments of planets and of people, the transformation of the field has already occurred: the shock waves are reaching out to us from the future, moving out from the fulcrum of its event-horizon like ripples in a pond. Its influence is drawing us in to its magnetic field, the resplendence of which echoes our divine immortal blueprint.

A transcendent field is a powerful thing. As the comprehensive manifestation of the Source directive, it is the mother of resonant transformative systems, the ultimate holistic virus. Assisted by the compatibility of the governing holography of unified systems, it downloads into and corrupts mutant matrices within all its subsystems and temporal zones.

All structures and programs whose energy dynamics do not owe their existence to the supreme organizing principle of the true tantric directive are recalibrated.

The periphery of this implosion is here now: its transmission is finding ways to run its programs through our computational awareness. Reconnected circuitry allows this to occur more comprehensively. The Worldbridger Circuit, specifically, is integral to the acceleration and integration of this download. Repeated exposure to its code and geometry initiates an activation/integration dynamic. To accommodate and integrate the amplification of energetic data we must recalibrate to its frequency which initiates a cleanse.
All programs running on old data will be up for review as will the appropriate response to illusory stimuli.

The sounds to which a Human is exposed are significant, but so too are the sounds a Human emits. As electromagnetic frequencies are downloaded into the endocrine system via circuitry, the body emits an altered frequency resonant with the divine immortal directive, collectively weaving a holistic reality in which anything that owes its existence to the subjugation of the male or female potencies of creation will not be able to hold its molecular structure.

Language: the alchemical cryptography of organized sound.

The Template model values sound as one component in a wider alchemical composition, a holonomic model of transcendence that appreciates the need to create a stable global field resonant with the full spectrum of the creation frequency.

Since its inception The Template has included the dynamic use of language as a component within an alchemical process. We have discovered that in order to sustain transformative phenomena there is a vital link between language, circuitry, geometry, the endocrine system and DNA restoration. The syntax of The Template codes forms a dense cipher of detonation that, together with other alchemical components, ignite ancient meaning and memory stored within the labyrinth of the cerebral cortex... the temple of remembrance.

Thus triggered, the recollection of the holistic Human identity, prior to genetic modification, stimulates a domino effect through the co-creative, interactive systems of the Human hologram, resurrecting electromagnetic meridians of Source Intelligence into the field of Human consciousness, activating its Soul’s Covenant with light.
Originally, the Phi-sonic DVD was created for those who had previously experienced The Template alchemy to assist them in integrating the acceleration of electromagnetic download through reconnected bio-circuits. As the reinstated divine directive pulses through these circuits, collapsing old programs reliant upon the synthetic matrix, the disenchantment with the predominant ideology of prejudice and separation creates a sense of disassociation and isolation as there becomes less and less to relate to in this ‘reality’.

Rather than attempting to intellectually analyze the present global situation in order to resolve and compensate for the discrepancy between the integrity of the incoming data and the apparent manifestation of the fear-based paradigm in which we must continue to function, the confluence of alchemical harmonic and visual compositions of the Phi-sonic Resonance provides a more primal energy to define the eternal constant and our place within it, reinforcing our divine immortal identity.

As you listen to the geometry and see the sound you are not simply hearing with your ears. The Human body is a crystallized template of the geometry of the Cosmos. The Soul Covenant embedded in its matrix is written in the geometric language of light. All its visible and invisible energy systems comprise a toroidal generator deciphering incoming Source data and transmitting cognizant feedback, a multilevel energy-transforming component translating the iconic patterning of the primal divine directive into the conceptual reality of manifestation.

We are a solar race. As fractals of the solar holography, the Human Soul Covenant is a holonomic symbiotic code in which the Human design is the sensory organ for planetary evolution, as Earth is the sensory organ for Human evolution. As your bio-computational field of consciousness is exposed to and registers the audible/visual transcendent principles of manifestation, expressed as a synthesis of harmonics and geometry, its spontaneous natural desire is to give and receive, to respond, to resound. This resonant feedback is similar to the sonar of the whale, a Human song of creation, a musical communion that weaves the web of sonic substructure upon which to build its reality-matrix. Just as we receive the light of the Sun we also respond to it with our own light.

The reconnection of the Worldbrider bio-circuitry is a communicative resonant response to the synergy of the Phi-sonic transmission.

The interference waveforms of neuro-acoustic interplay with its resonant hyper-vortex geometry of super-clustered substructures establishes the elemental components of the creative force, defining the natural world as the infrastructure of your ego-reference, resetting old stimulus-response patterns, redefining your relationship to the environment and the Source of your Creation... transcending the fear-based programmed aspects of yourself...
reinforcing your true identity.

As the coalescing waves of harmonies and geometries wash over you, stimulating your super-sensory awareness, concentric spheres of cosmic comprehension ripple through your electromagnetic field.
You become aware of your breath as a gift... as a bridge to consciousness... appreciating your presence on this emerald-blue planet spinning through the galaxy, bringing you fully present in the moment, enticing your field of awareness into the holistic space/time co-ordinance...the immortal continuum.

The quantum effects of the synthesis between the sounds and sights of the Phi-sonic Resonance conceive the full spectrum of the divine directive, calming the reptilian brain, awakening the fearless self, deprogramming the delusions and deceptions generated by the synthetic matrix, replacing it with the truth of nature, the incandescent faith of light.
You become the portal through which divine Consciousness flows.
You remember that you are a conscious conduit of life eternal.

The Phi-sonic Resonance is also a means for those who have not yet reconnected vital circuitry to temporarily do so. Even though the delivery of electromagnetic data via the circuitry is not sustained, the heart/body/mind system is forever influenced and inspired by an indelible encounter with its immortal divine identity as the provisional download of the circuitry activates the temple of remembrance in the cerebral cortex where the original Human blueprint, prior to genetic modification, is stored.
Temporary it may be: however, the experience is banked as an established phenomenon providing an alternative consideration when faced with the many dilemmas of this fear-based paradigm.
From this empowered perspective of identity reference, all decisions, choices, events, experiences and, ultimately,
the entire mutant paradigm is evaluated.

This ‘new paradigm’ we speak of is not really new.
It is so ancient it comes from the future. It is the realm we called our home prior to the genetic modification of our DNA.
In this realm there was no question of survival as we rode upon the waves of ascending currents of life-force that ebbed and flowed with the rising and setting of our Sun.
Our existence and bio-technology were based upon our ability to translate light and maintain the integrity of our primordial soul resonance with our Sun’s Consciousness and thus, with the supreme organizing principle of the galactic core, Hunab Ku.

This transcendent realm shimmers just beyond the surface of our perception. A shift in neuro-chemical activity will bring it into focus.
It is separated from us only by a trick of light and time.

It is a frequency.

Form is the Shape of Frequency

Our Sun is the ultimate monadic form of Source Consciousness, not only an emissary for the Benevolence of Creation, but a transubstantiation of its Prime Presence. A centrifugal crystalline generator that receives, translates and transmits the hyper-coded divine covenant into usable data for our solar system, the Sun is the gateway to the Heart of the Cosmos.

The light of the Sun is sourced as the energetic form of primordial purpose originating from the galactic core and funneled into the portal of its hyperbolic center to be decoded into geometric frequencies whose confluent fields of coherence converge into ever denser and complex patterns of nesting forms that blossom into apparent matter.

The Sun is the Maha-spheric heart of the solar system, communicating the light-code dynamics within its field of stellar influence, a massive teardrop enfolding, informing and igniting all the planets within its heliocentric embrace.

Between Sun and Earth the courtship of creation begins with light, liquid gold fractals of geometric energy, forming an endless transmission of light-code Intelligence pulsing in orgasmic spherical waves, generating the photonic matrix of creation, cascades of primal data reaching out to transfuse Earth’s field of awareness with its luminosity.
Earth’s feminine magnetic potency receives this seed impulse into her egg-like receptive field, integrating and synthesizing its iconic directive through embryonic stages into crystallization.

Dawn actuates the awakening tide of consciousness, a passionate diffusion of energy, pulsating waves of ascending currents. As first light suffuses the darkness, to touch the Earth with fiery color, to kiss the tips of trees and mountain tops, to bathe the land in light, every leaf and flower, every insect and blade of grass responds ecstatically.

Air, Fire, Earth, Water and Ether individually emit their own tonal frequency, collectively creating the symphony of euphoric harmonies that enchant spirit into matter.

Form is the shape of frequency.

Every leaf, every drop of water is the exquisite nuance of Earth’s response to her Sun and to the center of the galaxy.

The wind between the leaves whisper soft, the almost silent fall of snow on mountain tops which no eye has beheld, no footprint left; lightning flash, dolphin splash, song of whale, from the audience, a thunder clap.

These, the wedding vows between spirit and matter, between the Mother of Form and the Father of Consciousness; the Maha Gaia Tantra of creation.

Love manifest, the day a song, a melody of eternity, the harmonies of endlessness, the sound of One...

The Harmonic & Form of Eternity

The blueprint of the Human light-body exists at a hyper-spin frequency, calibrated to the interference patterns created between the full spectrum of the Sun’s divine directive projected as light and the receptive, integrating geometric frequencies emitted from the crystalline heart of its mother planet.

Due to the modification of the Human divine immortal blueprint and its disassociation from the true continuum, Humanity is not embodying the full spectrum of photonic intelligence that would otherwise manifest its light body.

Every diversion from the energetic truth of nature, every lie we have told, every heart broken, every drop of blood spilt in battle, every motherless child is born of this disconnection. The wounds of the cosmic orphan, lost in the mutant matrix, are not born of shame or guilt. There is no ‘original sin,’ no fall from grace.

The octave of the infinite eight is a counter-sonic response of Earth to the morphic resonance of her Sun star. This harmonic can be heard in the deep echo of stillness beyond the hum of the synthetic matrix and its chainsaw madness.

The ultimate neuro-acoustic healer, the infinite eight is the sonic cure for the mortal neuro-psycho-biology that initiates the deterioration of the physical body into death. In the figure 8, the intersection between the circle above and the one below signifies the center, the border between the ‘infinite in’ and the ‘infinite out’, between the vision and its manifestation, the terminus between the inflow of Source data and the outflow of cognizant feedback, the Mother of Form rising to meet the Father of Consciousness.
Geometrically, the infinite eight forms a vector cube-octahedron, the central vortex of a three-dimensional flower of life. When stellated it becomes a Heart Star. Its role as a fractal aspect of our Soul’s Covenant with light is activated in The Template Ceremony of Sacred Breath as it connects the Sacral Circuit within the crucible of birth, the sacrum.

“I am the sensory expression of the Benevolence of Creation” is the mantra of the infinite eight.

The Harmonic of the Galactic Holography…the Sound of Time.

Wheels within wheels, churning interactive fractals of co-creative consciousness establish the mechanics of resonance that govern synchronomic forces of manifestation, light-informing transmissions of divine cognizance pulsating through the hyper-mandala of the One, the geometry of the inconceivably one and different...the sound of 26,000 years, the vibration of 9,490,000 sunrises and sunsets distilled into a frequency, the sound of time itself, a galactic harmonic that translates into the audible transcendent principle, the tantric friction of the planetary dance, the sound of the punctuated equilibrium.

The Phi-sonic of the Galactic Om is the resonant harmonic for the 33rd meridian that encompasses the Human electromagnetic field. This is the Worldbridger hyper-circuit, the spherical energetic membrane of super-charged communication, a stream of Source Intelligence flow to and from the conscious entity and its point of sentient sovereign conception. This circuit reconnects, activates and integrates all 32 circuits of the electromagnetic module that actuate the Human template. Via this circuit your field is embraced into the holonomic weave of co-creative, interactive spheres of light information…the immortal continuum, activating the Soul’s Covenant that holds the harmonic for our symbiotic relationship with our mother planet, in which the Human design is the sensory organ for planetary transcendence and Earth is the sensory organ for Human transcendence.

This sphere delineates the brink of our consciousness as it distinguishes itself as a fractal aspect of the whole, the One, the Source. It is the event-horizon upon which we, as individualized facets of one body of divine Consciousness, simultaneously coalesce and differentiate. It is the threshold at which the varying densities of electromagnetic Source Intelligence converge and substantiate into dimensional compositions. It is from this intersection that we can choose to experience any time or energy level in the Universe, from which we may bridge the worlds.

Our ability to do so is reliant upon the frequency of our resonant field of awareness, a vibrational field whose coherence is influenced by the incoming data contained within the delivery system of circuitry.

As we alter our vibration, we adjust our affinity to varying densities of dimension. As a critical mass of conscious entities make this adjustment a new resonant global field of accelerated collective coherence creates the quantum leap into the transcendent realm.

As 33 circuits of the energetic nature of Source Consciousness are reinstated by your neuro-acoustic interplay with the galactic harmonic, the order of the Cosmos is reflected and experienced within you.

Let go of your self and dive into the sky… no future, no past, no North, no South, all is reflected into the moment…the portal to the immortal. Listen… listen to the call of the Universe beckoning you to return to the eternal embrace of the true continuum.

Your being, the bridge,
You, the Worldbridger.

Our Sun translates the primal matrix of Source Intelligence into coherent light. Its luminosity is the symbiotic code that activates our Soul Covenant to evolve as conduits of love.

We are a solar race,
each one of us emissaries of Source Consciousness, able to translate through the masterpiece of our Human design the galactic directive encoded into the informational field of our Sun.
Born of the matrix of light...we are light.

Everything comes from the Sun.

The epigenesist of creation, central to our existence, the Sun seeds Earth’s womb to conceive and birth matter into time and space.

The Sun, our portal to cosmic comprehension... our umbilical to the Benevolence of our Creation... its light is the quintessential definition of our identity and existence, generating the photonic matrix of creation, each ray encoded with the immortal frequency originating from the galactic core, transmitted to Earth as a matrix of geometric frequencies, confluent fields of coherence, light cascades of primal data, the solar alchemy of the life impulse converging into complex nesting patterns of matter, crystallizing consciousness into form, birthing ever more dense fields of manifestation, translating light’s impulse into life forms that walk, fly and swim, clothed in fur, feather and skin…
trees, flowers and shimmering wings.

Everything comes from the Sun.

As the Earth begins and ends her journey around her Sun, from the touch of its first ray of light to its last caress,
a frequency harmonic is transmitted and received…
the Solar Om.

As you flood your being in these cosmic octaves, simultaneously filling your vision with the counter-resonant, geometric calibrations of sound in form, 33 major circuits of electromagnetic frequencies download the energetic nature of Source Consciousness into your endocrine system and re-embrace your field into the interactive, co-creative, holonomic information systems that include the subatomic to the multi-universal.

You become the portal.

In this, our time, the Sun nears its last ray of communication within the Great Cycle… codes fall into place…into space…
unlocking the eternal moment between contraction and expansion, past and future, opening the portal of endlessness, emitting the harmonic octaves of the 13 Baktun which heralds the opportunity to access re-entry into the universal holography of the constant immortal continuum.
The frequencies of the Galactic Om alchemically merge with the solar vortex - Worldbridger geometry.
Your primordial soul-resonance with the supreme organizing principle of Hunab Ku is activated, awakening your coded symbiotic evolutionary relationship to light which defines you as a sensory organ for the transcendence of Earth.

Listen...
listen to the voice of the Cosmos.

As every cell of your body is immersed in the harmonics of its immortal frequency your presence becomes a co-ordinate in the divine immortal continuum, awakening your quantum identity, stimulating the temple of remembrance in the cerebral cortex, activating total recall of your transcendent Human self, downloading new points of reference through which to redefine the source of your creation.
You become the stargate through which divine Consciousness flows.

Never was there a time when you did not exist, never will there come a time when you cease to be.

You are unborn, eternal, everlasting.

You are not only this, you are the Universe.

Listen...
listen to the waves of creation... breaking upon the shore of your consciousness...
WHEN NEXT YOU FIND YOURSELF staring into the night sky, consider the raw and elemental world of the ancient Mesoamerican shaman astrologers, those visionary calendar priests with their feet planted on an earth free of chemical pollution, gazing into a night sky free of the hindrance of air traffic and city lights. Their appreciation for the evolutionary relevance spelled out in the astronomical grand crosses and alignments that graced their skies drove them to transcend their personal needs and fears, to leave behind all that was safe and to leap empty-handed into the abyss of the unknown, to journey to the Center of the Galaxy and retrieve the mysteries of time, explaining the implicit order of the Cosmos for the benefit not only of their own communities but of the Human race of the future.

Without the gift of their knowledge, passed down through artifacts and the integrity of their ancestral lineage to be translated by the shaman anthropologist of today, would we even be aware of the portal of opportunity that is now dilating in readiness for rebirth at the end of their calendars? As we look back in awe, so they looked forward, to this, our time; for we live in the time of prophecy, not a prophecy of salvation and atonement driven by guilt and fear, but one written in the empirical language of the stars and planets, that speaks of a coming synchronization of cosmic influences that will open the portals of time; a prophecy not of the end, but of the beginning.

The Mayan sky-watchers understood that, radiating from the Galactic Core, was the supreme organizing principle of creation, a light-encoded directive to be translated through the evolutionary symbiosis that is shared by all conscious entities within the embrace of our Sun’s influence. Every day, every breath, every thought, is infused with an all-encompassing numinous Intelligence from the Sun, imprinting on our DNA, with every ray of light, a stream of Source Consciousness transmitted through the prism of the Sun’s sentient body from the Benevolent Heart of Creation.

Those shaman astrologers understood that the challenge for Humanity was not merely to survive this time of transformation, but to birth its potential, through individual and collective bio-circuitry, into a manifestly new model of existence, a new paradigm. These sky-watchers ached to be present in these days of culmination, poised before the ultimate Human challenge of the total transformation of ourselves, our world and our solar system. To incarnate at such a time! But did they know how hard it would be, how much courage it would take to awaken from the narcotic density which is being laid upon our world, creating the convincing illusion that renders us pathologically obedient to its insane political, religious and social structures? They may not have known the sophistication of consciousness manipulation that would evolve through time in this dimension, but they did know that we would succeed. Their shamans saw the future rise phoenix-like, as all the planets aligned with the solstice Sun and the Center of the Galaxy to instigate the dismantling of the illusions of duality in one true moment of time and space; to calibrate, with the conscious cooperation of Human cosmic comprehension, a new measure of existence.

In the light of this prophesy, are we to betray our ancestors by concerning ourselves with shallow dreams of happiness, with a ‘Hallmark’ bells-and-smells spirituality that serves as a harbor of false calm in the sea of our present global insanity? Are we to passively accept the false time-space frequency that governs our deepest bio-informational programs, convincing us of a mortally defined parameter in which to organize our short existence? There are countless programs that have been instilled within the mass consciousness of Humanity through its archetypal belief systems, the manipulation of history and an erroneous definition of God. However, the entire memory of the true Human genesis is intact and exists in its entirety in the cerebral cortex, the temple of remembrance. We cannot be deceived forever, for we are the truth.

It is not enough to be informed of the false teaching of our history and ancestry. In order to override the deep indoctrination of this programming we must reinstall tangibly, within the body, the energetic circuit-board that will incorporate a synthesis of electromagnetic data, an omniscience that defines the true transcendental Human. As the Source circuits of the first fractal of the actualization phase put in place the data-feeding circuits of Prime Consciousness, which, through resonance, decode the memory matrix of the original Human blueprint, a deep healing occurs, as fear is diminished by the comfort of the cosmic embrace. It is in the second fractal of the holonomic actualization phase that the seven circuits of The Temple of Time restore resonance within the space-time co-ordinates of the incarnate body presence with the true living archetypes of our Earth, the Sun and five other planets within our solar system. The cataclysmic disturbance in our solar system and the subsequent deviation from our evolutionary relationship with the creative mandate transmitted by Galactic Center will, ultimately, with the realization of a critical mass of reconnected units of circuitry, be countermanded.

The planetary alignment that zeniths on December Solstice 2012, 13.0.0.0.0, 4 Ahau, is the portal through which the core density of the galactic photon-wave will enter our neighborhood searching for worldbridgers, for fully reconnected units of bio-circuitry, able to receive and transmit light. The magnetic cooperation of this planetary alignment is an opportunity to override the cosmic disorder within our solar system that is stabilizing the perverted spatial timing frequency of Earth’s present dualistic dimension. The alignment of the solstice Sun of 2012 with the Center of the Galaxy is the eye of a magnetic storm of realignment that will restore the symbiotic evolutionary order of our original solar system. Conscious Human co-operation is essential.

As Humans, our part in this grand realignment is to resurrect our ability to translate the creation mandate of light information and to embody the energetic nature of the true cosmic order. The fundamental requirement to achieve this is the reconnection of our circuitry. Thus we express our Soul Covenant through our physical beings, becoming the template of light, love and life eternal. We must awaken to the totality of the Human predicament and the truth of what is now manifesting on our Earth. Our destiny and the future of our Mother planet depend on it.

In our present state of disconnection from holistic continuum there is no reference point within our psyche for the infinite. As we gaze into the starry night, we try to imagine eternity, our pulses quicken, we reach for a part of ourselves that might understand a holographic identity, the starlight evoking a distant memory of a world beyond the walls of our homes, the streets of our cities, beyond the pain of being Human. In the starry heavens we feel the possibility of deliverance from the brutality, the genocide, the suffering. In the celestial cathedral night a fragment of ourselves, immersed in the reservoir of pleasure and causal desire, is free. We must now breathe ourselves into this starry identity, spinning the wheels of light through our circuits that connect us to the stars, the planets, the rainbow spheres of light that are everywhere. The night will no longer hold the little death of sleep as, instead, we sink through the fiery gates of the setting Sun to explore the indigo depths of space in lucid states of deep communion, no longer looking up to the stars...we play among them.

The Human Soul Covenant contains a holonomic symbiotic code in which the Human design is the sensory organ for planetary ascension as Earth is the sensory organ for Human ascension. As this code is reactivated and integrated through the acceleration of electromagnetic input, via circuitry reconnection, the Human becomes light sensitive, able to join the galactic conversation as every celestial nuance is understood within the occipital receptor at the top of the spinal column, every stellar transmission embraced as the stars and planets recalibrate their intercourse with the Galactic Core. Concentric spheres of cosmic comprehension ripple through the heavens, registering in the shifting sands upon the shores of Human consciousness a holographic celebration of celestial evolution that murmurs...then whispers...then sings, throughout the universe. The awakening has begun...and it all begins with you.
